Exclusive Escapes

The owner, Panagis, has a wonderful eye for design and has given much thought to the layout of each villa, ensuring that guests have absolute privacy, whilst at the same time providing the very best views from all areas of the villas and their gardens. These three lovely villas are named after the Norman conqueror of Fiscardo – Robertos Giscardos, Duke of Apulia, his wife Gaëta and their son Ruggero.

They enjoy the most beautiful and peaceful of locations, and can be found hidden down a small track in a leafy glade close to Fiscardo, with glorious views over the cypress trees in front and across the sea to Ithaca and Lefkas.

Each villa has a large pool terrace and private garden in which to relax and enjoy the peace and appreciate those views. A five-minute stroll down a winding track leads to the charming pebble cove of Emblisi beach, and a ten-minute stroll in the other direction leads to the attractions of the harbour at Fiscardo.

The villas are intended for individual, private use. However they are an ideal venue for extended families or friends who wish to take either two or three villas together, and so keep this hidden corner of Fiscardo entirely to themselves.
